The Giants Of Yesterday -: -- By Garrett P. Serviss No. 3 --- The Biggest Beast Of Creation and the Monster Iguanodon

diplodocus and the iguanodon, the ermer of which was the hugest land unimal that ever existed, unless some still more brobdignagian creature wat remains to be discovered in the and pull them within reach, or possibly to search the bettom of shallow lakes for its feed. It was not armored in the statorate manner of some of the

There is a wooderful specimen of the diplodocus in the Carregie museum, at Pittsburg, and a few years ago Mr. Carnegie presented a reproduction of the same specimen to the Natural History museum, in London, where it made a great sensation.

shaped like crosses. It is evident that these curious claws must have been extremely convenient for seizing and pulling down the branches of trees, for the iguanodon also was a vegetable

One of the strangest stories in the history of goology is that of the discovery. In 1878, of the skeletons of 23 of these huge creatures in a chasm among the rocks, in the coal mines of Bernissart Belgium, at a depth of 800 feet beneath the surface of the ground. The ancient chasm had been choked up, and in driving their galleries the miners suddenly broke into it, and beheld with amazement these remains of monsters such as no one had ever dreamed of. They seemed to have been plunged into the antedliuvian world inhabited by incredible giants. Geologists flocked to the place and the hige skeletons were carefully removed. How they ever got there is an unsolved problem: ever got there is an unsolved problem; but it is thought that they must have been swept into the chasm by a flood. Since then, iguanodons of related spe

Clogs the pores of the scalp, prevents the hair from obtaining proper nourishmentcames it to fade and eventually to fall out. And besides, it's irritating and annoying to have your scalp itching and burning all the time.

If you want to get rid of the Dandruff germ-to stop the annoying itching and burning-to have a really clean and healthy scalp, get a bottle of HAY'S HAIR HEALTH to-day-prove to yourself what a satisfaction it is to have hair

Your money back if not satisfactory. $1.00 and 500 at Drug Stores or direct upon secupt of price and dealers name. Send 10c for al bottle. - Philo Hay Spec. Co., Newark, N. J. or sale and recommended by Knoblauch Drug Co., and Kelly & Pollard.

creatures that we have already studied, such as the triceratops and the stego-saurus, but its thick hide would have protected it against the assaults of all but the most powerful enemies.

A Carmegle Gift.

cles have been discovered in western America, and other parts of the world. The iguanden gets its name from the resemblance of its teeth to those of a lizard called the iguans, which is found living in South America, but the grann is a small constitution. found living in South America, but the iguana is a small creature, which would frighten nobody, while its predecessors of some millions of years ago were so terrible on account of their size alone that the sight or one of them might have put a herd of elephants to flight, if there had been any elephants ten.

This leads to the conclusion that some of the animals of the arithmic of the animals of the arithmic of the animals of the arithmic and the source of the animals of the arithmic of the arithmic of the animals of the arithmic of the

the same specimen to the form moder, where it made a great sensation. In our pictures the trumnodon presents even a more formidable appearance than the diplodocus, because the creature has been represented in its favorite attitude of rearing up to its full height. It was a tremendous monster, but not comparable in size with the diplodocus. An iguanodon stood about 15 feet high when it lifted up its head and reared on its hind legs. You will observe the very strange form of its fore claws, which were furnished with huge, awkward, bony fingers, shaped like crosses, it is evident that have been curious claws must have been consistent that we have seen talking and clambant is now the largest otherwises comparable with those of the monsters that we have been talking of. The elephant is now the largest land animal, but he is not as large as his predecessors, the mammoth and the

This animal was the hugest that ever exlated on this earth. The inrgest of them are said to have been about 80 feet long.

Henred on its powerful hind legs and massive tall, it could lift its head 40 feet above the ground. If it lived in these days it could easily peer lote a fifth-story window.

to a rat is principally due to the pe-culiar form of its front teeth, which are shaped like chisels, indicating that. like the modern rat, it was accustomed to gnawing. In its general form it bore considerable resemblance to a guinea pig. But a guinea pig. or a rat, nine feet long, would cause some in a poker game. When Weman Returns to Her Home

Spring Humors

Come to most people and cause many roubles,-pimples, boils and other eruptions, besides loss of appetite, that fired feeling, biliousness, indigestion

The sconer you get rid of them the better, and the way to get rid of them and to build up the system is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla are the necessary accompaniments of a decree absolute.

The Spring Medicine par excellence as shown by unequaled, radical and permanent cures.

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolated tablets known as Sarsetabs.

There is nothing else in the world that is more unfortunate than that we are so stupid that we do not realize the virtue and value of judicious absences from even our best beloved. There are no two human beings that can'be together all of the time without wearying each other and coming to loathe each other's society.

Even an angel from heaven would bore us if we had to siways look at the same crown and the same wings, and listen to it, day after day, menth after month, year after year, playing the same old tune in the same old key, on the same old harp.

It is literally true that if people were are the necessary accompaniments of

It is literally true that if people were married only three days a week instead of seven there would be no more divorces. Never do the virtues of the partners of our besoms loom up so grandly and beautifully as when they are not under our immediate eyes.

When you said goodby to your John, madam, on the pier, didn't you reflect what a little humpshouldered, dings man he was? And when you had been away for three days didn't you revise your opinion and begin to think that he was a fine looking, upstanding gentleman, with an intellectual face?

See Each Other Through Different Eyes When Parted.

By the time you reached London weren't you bragging about what a handsome man your husband was, and before your three months in Europe were up didn't he look like a figure of romance to you that you were hurrying back to as fast as steam would take you?

'And you, air, didn't you find that absence robbed your Maria of her fat and gray hairs and made her allm and and gray hairs and made her slim and beautiful to your fancy, and that it turned all her nagging ways into loving solicitude for you of which you bragged to other men? You were so glad to see her go you could scarcely keep a decent take, but you are so anxious to se her back that you wait three hours on the dock before the ship is due.

What the trip to Europe or Florida or the semilar does for some couples, the limited divorce will do for others. It will give them the separation they need and a chance to get a perspective on each other's virtues, instead of havener to the couples of the coupl ing their faults rubbed in at close range.

Also it will give them the opportunity to find out that diverce isn't all beer ing skirtles, as they imagined it in their lenging for freedom. It is inevitable that when we contemplate the past we put on his coar of gliding to which it is not entitled. So when a man and woman think-of the joys of a divorce, they picture themselves returning to life as it was before they were married at all.

Alsa' we can never go back. Everything changes. We change ourselves. The man who has been married and had a wife and children of his own finds out that he is more domesticated than he thought. The idle round of dissipation soon palls upon him, and if he had his choice he would rather go home to pipe and slippers and his baby's arms around his neck than sit in a poker game.

The Real Parisian Styles for Spring

Modified to meet the American taste can be found only in the

Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book

The New Draped Skirt Models Afternoon Gowns in Foulards and Taffetas The Smartest but Simplest House Dresses Exquisite Lingerie and Evening Gowns Plain Tailored Dresses in Serge and Silk Combining Simplicity and Novelty

Pictorial Review Patterns are much more economical, because with the Patented Cutting and Construction Guides that go with every pattern, you can lay out your material just as economically as the best professional cutter. If your goods cost you a dollar a yard, one Pictorial Review Pattern will save you lifty cents. Visit our pattern department and see for yourself—get a copy of the latest Pictorial Review Fashion Book—it's ready for you.

PICTORIAL REVIEW --- MAY NUMBER

All the Latest Styles for Spring and Summer.

Now on Sale on all News Stands.

her, but they would rather have her room than her company. She's been at the head of a house it lan't easy to be a pensioner in somebody else's, and it doesn't take her long to wish taht she had put up with John's whims instead of running foul against mother's.

Six months of trial divorce would When Weman Returns to Her Hume
She is Pitied.
The woman ascertains that when ahe goes back home she is tolerated rather than a welcome guest. People look at he with pity and call her "poor Mary!"

would miss in not having a cute little house to keer clean, and a darling little kitchen all my ewn, and nice little meals to cook for you, but I will give up all my dreams to live in a hotel with you. I am satisfied it would be cheaper for you."

And that's the way she always talks, Diary Mine. She has made me realiss that it will be a great sacrifice to have no pots and kettles to wash, but she is willing in make the sacrifice for my sake. would miss in not having a cute little

And surely if a girl will give up all

Now that I know the expense need be no longer considered, Josephine will

She has said so much about cunning cook aprons, and sweet little casseroles, and darling little kitchen ranges and pots and pans, I know her joy will be complete when I tell her the sacrifice is not necessary.

She shall have her own little kitchen just whenever and wherever she pleases, and she shall have every cun-

For this reason, and many others, Diary Mine, I am grateful. I am grate-ful that I have health and strength and wealth that I may devote them to Josephine. Fil surprise her the next time I call handing her a lot of kitchen cata-

OLD D. A. R. FEUD IS STARTED AGAIN

A Renewal of Hostilities Threatens Convention in Washington.

I had no idea I was quite so well off. Washington, D. C. April 15 .- The old feud that split the D. A. R. convention of a year ago into warring factions and resulted in a hotly contested fight for the organization presidency be-tween the followers of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who won the election, and Mrs. William Cummings Story, of New York, leaped to the front this morning when the Elst congress of the Daugh-ters of the American Revolution convened in Memorial Continental hall and the rollcall disclosed the fact that both the Scott and Story forces were present in large numbers.

It is expected that the present convention week will uncover a renewal of hostilities between the two leaders and those in touch with D. A. R. affairs predict one of the housest sessions in the history of the organiza-

Another interesting phase of the present meeting is the universal popularity displayed throughout the various organization chapters for a "safe and same" Fourth of July celebration, and for uniform laws to prevent the desecration of the flag. It was stated today that every effort will be made to promote this propagance at the present meeting.

Following the rollcall the committee on programs made public the list of n programs made public the list of usinces to be considered by the con-cition during the week. This includes reception to the Daughters by presi-ent and Mrs. Taft or Thursday, an air-rees by president Mrs. Matthew T. Cott and several entertainments to the delegates.

This evening, from 2 to 11, the president general, Mrs. Scott, will give a reception to the Daughters and their families at Memorial Continental hall.
Thesiay afternoon, according to the program committee's report today, has to meetings of the state delegations.

Nominations and elections will take place on April 17. The term of office of the following vice presidents general expires this year, their successions are successions. sors to be elected at this congress; Mrs. John T. Sterling, Con.; Mrs. La Verne Noyes, Illinois; Miss Ellen Mecum, New Jersey; Mrs. Egbert Jones, Missis- J. P. Mulita-

There's wear, wear and more wear in sippi; Mrs. George Scott Shackelford, Virginia; Mrs. Emil P. S. Moor, Ver-mont; Mrs. Andrew K. Gault, Nebraska: Mrs. Edward Randall, Texas; William Stanley, Kansas; and Anna C. Benning, of Georgia.

the Daughters Thursday afternoon.
Reports from the national committees will probably take up the remainder of the time, with the exception of Friday evening, which has been sleep.

You Eat

A Beautiful Complexion In Ten Days.

=== Nadinola CREAM

The Complexion Beautifier.

Used and en-

NADINOLA banishes Tan, Sallowness, Freckles, Pimples, Liver Spots and other facial discolorations. Worst case in 20 days, Rids pores and tissues of impurities, leaves the skin clear, soft, healthy and beautiful, Directions and guarantee in each package. 50c. and $1.00 by Tollet Counters or Mail. RATIONAL TOILET COMPANY, PORIS, Tong

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

COLLEGE

Dorothy Dix On the Cause of Divorce.

BROOKLYN JUDGE has granted when she permitted that human shrimp to lead her to the altar.

The husband thinks that if his wife

For six months the husband and wife are prohibited from seeing each other or holding any communication. The man gets rid of his wife and her aggra-vating ways and has his bachelor lib-erty restored to him. The woman goes back to her mother, as she had often

This arrangement gives both parties a chance to see how they like divorce before they irretrievably commit them-serves to it.

A Daniel, a second Daniel come to Judgment, is this wise judge. Would that every magistrate who deals with the woes of the unhapply mated had his breadth of view and his knowledge of human nature, and that all divorces had a probationary plank in them. It would save the final breaking up of many a home.

For the average divorce is the result not of some heartbreaking and unfor-giveable crime, as we are accustomed to think, but of a married couple get-the natural human impulse we all have to glorify too much the thing that we haven't done.

If the truth were known, more di-vorces are granted because of bore-dom than for Infidelity. This is partic-ularly true among people in moderate

Still, it has been found that some of the accient inhabitants of the sea, it scurrying in a me

the ancient inhabitants of the sea if they were not larger than the largest of foday, were far more wonderful in some respects. There was, for instance, the ichthyosaurus, a monster with a shark-like appetite, which was furnished with eyes six or eight inches in diameter, having an arrangement of bony plates which seem to have enabled it to change the focus of the eyes, fitting them for sharp vision at longer or shorter range as it removablestly shorter range as it remorselessly chased its prey. This recalls the won-derful new 60-inch telescope on Mount Wilson, Calif., which is provided with Wison Calif. which is provided with means for altering the focus as it stares into the depths of the universe. The ichthyosaurus would seem to have been furnished with a telescopic eye of scurrying in a modern household.

Giants of the Sen.

In the sea, on the other hand, the case is different. It would appear that the ocean has never been inhabited by animals larger than those found in it today. The great finner whale, for instace, which Huxley called the "hugest of beasts that live or have lived," sometimes attains a length of 30 feet, and disports its huge body "with easy roll among waves in which the stoutest ship that ever left dockyard would flounder helplessiy."

In Argentina there have been found remains of a gigantic rat-like creature which was nine feet long. This is called the toxodon, and its resemblance the monster, tryannosaurus,

Just Because Couples Get On Each Other's Nerves, Many Divorces Result, the nushand thinks that if his wife mentions to him another time what her mother said about so and so that he'll commit murder. The wife grits her teeth to keep from shricking as her husband starts out to relate for the millionth time his pet story.

When a couple gets in this frame of aind everything jars upon them. The wife cannot make the mildest sugges-ion to her husband without his resenting it as an attempt to henpeck him and in consequence whereof he says things that wound and rankle like a poisoned dart.

Nor can the husband express his opinion on any topic, from politics to pie, without his wife considering it a deliberately planned insult that calls forth weeps and immentations. In their secret thoughts both husband and wife believe love to be dead,

What they need is a breakaway and ot a divorce, and a six months' separation would enable them to kiss and make up, and save all of the expense and seandal and heartburnings that dom than for indicitity. This is particularly true among people in moderate circumstances, who cannot afford to take trips and indulge in aports and anusements that separate husbands and wives.

MERIT IN MEDICINE

Thus a married couple are thrown back upon each other for society, and in time they almost inevitably get tired of euch other, and the day arrives when they can perceive nothing but each other's faults.

They Cannot Inderstand What Caused Them to Wed.

The man wonders what he ever could have seen in his wife to make him want to marry her. The woman wonders what the fool killer was doing the continued success of a medicine depends entirely upon its merit. The continued success of a medicine depends entirely upon its merit. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the greatest of all remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratories and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the gratest of all remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratory, at Lyan, Mass. from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the greatest of all remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratory, at Lyan, Mass. from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a good, old fashioned remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratory, at Lyan, Mass. from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

P have become more than a trusted friendship that I must give up a friendship that hasn't failed me in 25 friend-you have become a habit. Every one is so built that he has to helr friends, forgetting that their riends also have friends, and a confidence becomes public property. Some tell only the Lord, but I am not that way. I live my joys all over again by writing them down I nitis little book, and I lose a portion of what troubles too strongly to my calling on Mary Playter, she intimated that there were a lot of my men friends she didn't like me when things go wrong by coming Just now I can't say that anything

-- A BACHELOR'S DIARY -:-

Just now I can't say that anything has gone wrong. Neither can I write with joyful pen. I am puzzled, that's the trouble Ad I am puzzled because I den't nuderstand women.

Jusephine wouldn't let me come up the other night because I can't play bridge. She was going to have Dribbles and two others who think that bridge ability embraces the wisdom of owis and ages. of owls and ages.

of owis and ages.

I despise a man who can spend hour after hour shuffling cards and dealing them out again, and to whom winning a rubber is the greatest feat in life. He's a sissy, a mollycoddle. He has the intellect of one who will play jacks all day for peanuts and count the limit wall count.

lacks all day for peanuts and count the time well spent.

I never say anything about this to Josephine. If she likes to play cards, all right, but when she wouldn't let me come up I didn't see any wrong in going to call on Mary Playter.

But I know better now. When I told Josephine where I had been she flaw into a violent rage. I didn't know that any one as little and aweet as Josephany one as little and aweet as Joseph-and doubled up her hands into fists and cried, and when I tried to pick her up in my arms and wipe the tears away she gave me a slap on the face. I didn't know before that Josephine had so much strength.

She Was Jenlous.

She was jeslous of Mary Playter! Plain Mary Playter, who never had a lover in her life, and who never thinks of such a thing. I don't believe Mary has been kissed since I kissed her when we were classmates at school. I couldn't believe Josephine would be so unreasonable.

we were constituted at school i couldn't believe Josephine would be so unreasonable.

"You wouldn't let me come up here," I began in my defence.

"That makes no difference," she retorted. "Couldn't you be content spending an evening at home occasionally. Must you always be with a woman? Can't you be satisfied unless some woman has you in low?

"And of all women, Mary Playter! That designing, ugly old cat," her wrath taking new flame. "You will promise me right now you will never go near her again. Either that, or you will never come here again."

To my everlasting shame I promised. I seem to have become as subdued as an old married man, and here I have been engaged only three weeks. I tried to add a clause to my promise that she must also give up Dribbles, but she flew into such a pession at the suggestion that I apologized for making it.

"I trust you, Josephine," I said when I had consed her to return to a seat beside me. "I am sorry you don't trust I trust you. Max," she replied, "but I don't trust other women."

Must Give Up Mary.

And Mary Playter, plain Mary Playter, of all women! I suppose it means Texas.

He Discovers What Tyrants Women Can Be In the Guise of Love. By MAX.

> Pebruary 26 .- Josephine had an en gagement tonight; she wouldn't tell me what, so I spent the evening here alone. I would like to hunt up some of the boys, but when she objected either.

That's strange, for a nicer bunch of fellows never breathed. Of the nine of them, who used to meet in here so often, there is only one she really knows, and that is John Kenn. It seems to me I heard she and Jhhn once had a love affair, but I don't believe it. If she had, she would have told me about it.

Barred from all my friends and finding no interest in my books. I have been taking a sort of inventory of my possessions, bonds, stocks, mortgages,

I have been plodding along so many years in a humdrum sort of way, never losing any money, and never making any startling gains, that somehow I had lost sight of the fact that all these slow gains were rolling up.

Wealth has never meant much to the saids the many the means not the saids. me. It was the means, not the ends, that interested me. I have enjoyed working for money, more than the thoughts of the money. Books and a

A Millionaire.

I wonder if she would be giad to know that I am touching seven figures. I don't believe she would care much. Josephine likes the pretty things of life, but she likes me more than she likes money. Once when we were talking of our marriage I told her of the hows I wanted for her, and she said she preferred to board, that it would be cheaper to board than to keep house. A Millionnire.

'Of course, Max," she said, patting me on both sides of my face in what I call her hypnotising way. 'I would prefer keeping house. I know all I experience. Some months ago he noticed his health failing and in aptreof all he could do, soon found himself in that condition which everyone dreads—"general breakdown."

MAN BREAKS DOWN

In a letter he says, "It seemed as if my health was ruined and I never would be strong again. Various other medicines did me no good but I are my health was ruined and I never would be strong again. Various other medicines did me no good but I began to take Vinol and it has done me a wonderful amount of good. I am now as well as I ever was, have gained twelve pounds, my appetite is good. I alleep soundly, and feel like a new man. All credit is due to Vinol." He is only one of many thousands who have been built up to health by our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. All who are broken in health, fundown, weak and nervous, should profit by his experience and regain their health by the use of Vinol. We guarantee that it will build you up and make you strong—your meney is given back if it does not kelly & Pollard, Druggists, El Paso, Texas.

SILK GLOVES

Anna C. Benning, of Georgia.

The state regents, beginning with Alabama and ending with Mississippi, will present their report on Wednesday evening and beginning with Missouri and ending with Wyoming, on Thursday evening, April 18.

President and Mrs. Taft will receive

Think of All

No wonder you sometimes have a bilious headache, feel dizzy, are troubled with indigestion and can't will help your liver do its work regularly, as it should. Take no substitute-sugar coated or plain.

dorsed by thousands.

NIGHT SCHOOL

Ash any business man or educator in El Paso on to the best School for your son or daughter-

Presidents